

Rocky Mountain COLLEGIAN

FORT COLLINS, COLORADO — FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1950

No. 19

Recent Poll Indicates Quarter System Is Favored At Aggies

The quarter system received a great majority of the votes cast in the COLLEGIAN poll of the students this week when the question was asked, "what do you favor, the quarter system, the semester system, or a revision of the present quarter system?" The faculty also voted for the quarter system as polled by Dr. David Morgan, Dean of the College.

A total of 653 votes were cast when the poll was taken at the Monday evening meetings of the independent, and fraternity and sorority students. The quarter system received 414 votes, 156 votes were cast for the revised quarter, and 78 for the semester.

The faculty cast a total of 219 votes. Of these, 143 were in favor of the quarter system and 78 voted for the semester. Breaking down the votes for the quarter system; 56 favored the quarter, 26 liked the system as we now have it, and 59 wished to have a reorganized quarter system.

The two polls showed that the quarter system is desired on this campus by both the students and faculty; but some revision in the system as we have it now is desired. Most of the people who were polled expressed the opinion that the quarter system is the best if the courses were arranged differently.

Rodeo Team Places Fifth in Ariz. Meet

Last week, the Rodeo team representing Aggie's Rodeo club, placed fifth in the competition at Apache, Arizona. The meet consisted of six rodeo events and took place February 18 and 19.

Adrian Weaver of Colorado A & M took first place in Day Money Saddle Bronc, and Roy Lilley took second. Jack Westwood took sixth in derouating. California Polytechnic Institute accumulated the most points to win first place in the team events.

This weekend the team will represent Aggies in a rodeo competition at Las Cruces, New Mexico. Members of the team are: L. Walker, Tom Kiplinger, Tom Meyer, Jim Errody, Joe Flores, Frank Lilley.

Aggie Vet School Rated Tops in U.S. States AVMA Head

Colorado A & M's veterinary division is now rated as the top veterinarian school in the United States due to the new half-million dollar hospital which has been added to the facilities of the veterinary division of the college, according to Dr. C. P. Zepp, Sr., New York practitioner and national president of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

"I've traveled throughout the United States and at present Colorado A & M rates at the top with this building," Zepp said. He is one of the 200 veterinarians who attended the annual short course on the Aggie campus this week.

CROSS DEDICATES

Dr. Floyd Cross, dean of the veterinary division, dedicated the new structure to the memory of Dr. George H. Glover, founder and former head of the division. Dr. L. S. McCandless, an Aggie graduate from Craig, was master of ceremonies for the dedication which took place on the campus Monday afternoon.

Col. E. L. Nye, A & M faculty member, presided over the opening session of the eleventh annual veterinary conference. President W. E. Morgan welcomed the vets to the Aggie campus.

A dinner dance at Ladd's Covered Wagon Monday evening was the top social event of the conference which continued through Wednesday.

Look at Those Beards!

These seven Aggie foresters are ready to start celebrating Forester's Day on the campus beginning today. All of the foresters on the Aggie campus are supposed to have a growth of beard which will compare to these.

Donnis Baker, A & M coed, is shown using an engineer's slide rule to measure Forester Dick Wilson's beard. Jack Gehringer laughs at the proceedings, but he is next.

—Photo by Foreman

Forestry Division Will Begin Two Day Festivities Today on A & M Campus

Fun and festivities galore will be the keynote in the Forestry Division this weekend when the Foresters will hold their annual field day and ball.

This afternoon the division will hold its annual field day complete with games and events open to all Forestry students. The events will include log chopping, log sawing, back-pack races, and the pack and outfit race. Highlighting this event will be the annual tug of war between the Foresters and Engineers. The prize is, of course, the "jug of war" which the Engineers have now, and which the Foresters are hoping to regain. At the same time the Forestry queen candidates will judge the beards which the Forestry majors have been sporting these past few weeks.

Saturday afternoon there will be meetings of the Society of American Foresters, the Society of Range Management, and the Society of Wild Life. These will be followed by a joint meeting of students, faculty and alumni of the Forestry division at 3 p. m. in Room 106 of the Forestry Building. President W. E. Morgan will be the

(Continued on page 12)

Two Receive Cups

Rockwell Girls Honored At Scholarship Dinner

Fifty-one Rockwell girls, constituting nearly one-fourth of the total number of girls living at the dorm were honored for their high scholarship during Fall quarter at the Scholarship Dinner held last night at Rockwell Hall. Each of the girls was presented with a rose for making a 3.0 average or higher last quarter. In addition Ruth Lowe from West Rockwell and Carolyn Anderson representing East were awarded the traveling cups for having the highest average for the Freshman on their respective sides of the dorm. Miss Anderson's average was 3.80 while Miss Lowe followed right behind her with a 3.78.

Speaker for the evening was President W. E. Morgan who made the awards to the girls. He was introduced by Miss Eugenia Symms, Dean of Women. Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Blevins, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Charkey, Miss Dagmar Gustafson, Pres. and Mrs. Morgan and Miss Symms.

The girls receiving roses were Carolyn Anderson,

Ruth Lowe, Betty Speir, Margaret Keating, Ramona Weinant, Norma Meisner, Joanne Duvall, Marilyn Atkley, Larue Brigham, Shirley Pickering, Wanda Gumprecht, Nancy Harris, Annette Roe, Dorece Helling, Elaine Carlson, Mary Lou Park, Glenda McCoy, Roberta Knau, Carol Ribbier, Margaret Ray, Joan Rice, Maxine Chapin, Norma Holmes, Jean Moore, Anne Kyles, Elizabeth Alishouse, Lois Zimmerlied, Joan West, Margaret Ribenstein, Donna Fouik, Cecile Thomas, Dolores Gompert, Evajane Ambrose, Shirley Lawrenson, Mitre Belwood, Marian Eberle, Phyllis Stone, Ardye Rold, Joyce Nixon, Shirley Miller, Goldie Lee, Marjorie Landeck, Dolores Kavan, Anne Jepperton, Frankee Page, Louise Wallace, Dorothy Tracy, Ruby Pratt, Lorraine Lyon, Maryelaine Elj, and Beverly Downing.

These girls were commended on their high scholarship. Margaret Keating and Janet Morrison are the scholarship chairmen for Rockwell Hall.

(Top picture) The crowd assembles in the new veterinarian hospital on the campus to hear the dedication of the building to Dr. Glover. (Bottom picture) Left to right: Dr. C. P. Zepp, Sr., Nat'l President of AVMA; Dr. I. E. Newsom; President W. E. Morgan; Dr. Gail H. Gilbert, President of Colo. Vet. Medicine Assoc.; Dr. Leon S. McCandless of the Board of Agriculture; Dr. Floyd Cross; and Dr. Chas. A. Lory, President Emeritus of A & M are looking at the all steel operating table which was invented by Dr. James Farquharson of the A & M Veterinary Department.

—Photo by Foreman